

Poolandspa.com Announces The 2008 Best Of Class Awards For The Pool & Spa Industry

June 11, 2008

Poolandspa.com News, Las Vegas, NV

Poolandspa.com, a Nevada based pool and spa web site, announces the winners of their 2008 Best Of Class Awards for companies in the pool and spa industry. Poolandspa.com was one of the first pool and spa companies to have a web site and has been on the net since 1994. They have presented their Best Of Class Awards every year since 1998. The award signifies superior products and/or customer service in the pool & spa industry. Award recipients receive a crystal trophy, an award certificate, and listings on the Poolandspa.com web site and in their online Newsletter.

DAN'S NEW PRODUCT PICKS

Dan Harrison

This is a new section of our Online Newsletter where they let me, the President of Poolandspa.com and one of the hosts on Poolandspa.TV, actually pick some of the products that I think will be the hottest selling items for this season. These products are ones that I have researched and added to our web site because I feel that they deserve special mention and attention. Some of these items are for sale through Poolandspa.com, and some you need to contact the manufacturer in order purchase. Either way, my 30 years experience in the pool and spa industry tells me that these items will be HOT sellers and will be products you really should check out for your pool or spa !

The Covana Automatic Spa Cover - OK, this has to be THE BEST spa product I have ever seen. I spotted this at a spa convention last November and I was so impressed with this that we are now heavily promoting it. It is a heavy duty automatic spa cover system that raises up and down by itself. You have to click on the link to see it in action. We gave it a Best Of Class Award for new product innovation!
